

15 July 2022

The World Resources Forum (WRF) is an international non-profit organization that promotes the exchange of knowledge among business leaders, policy makers and scientists on the topic of natural resources. Through our high-level international conferences, various research and project work, and other knowledge dissemination activities, we aim to advance the vision of sustainable use of natural resources. WRF was founded in April 2012 as a spin-off of the Swiss Federal Institute for Materials Science and Technology (Empa). The WRF secretariat is located in St. Gallen, Switzerland.

To support our WRF team with our international electronics and e-waste management projects, we are looking for an:

Intern “Life Cycle Assessment & Sustainability in Electronics” (80-100%)

Date of commencement: September 2022 or upon agreement
Length of internship: 6 – 10 months
Place of work: St. Gallen, Switzerland / partially homeoffice

Main duties and tasks:

- Support our international projects with a focus on sustainable electronics management, and environmental and social impacts along the life cycle of electronics
- Upon demand, support other projects related to the sustainable management of natural resources, eco-innovation and circular economy
- Assist with various communication tasks, such as updating our project websites, writing newsletters, social media posts and internal peer-review of reports
- Contribute to other daily administrative and organizational tasks of the WRF secretariat

Your profile:

- recently graduated or enrolled in relevant studies (Bachelor or Master) in the fields of sustainability / environment, engineering, technology, economics, energy, biology or international affairs. The internship can be part of your study requirements.
- Fluent in English (written and oral); German and Spanish is a plus
- Excellent computer, social media and communication skills
- Swiss or EU/EFTA citizen or holder of a valid work permit for Switzerland

WRF offers a modern and flexible working environment with creative freedom. Are you interested in an adding additional work experience to your studies in an international context and NGO environment? Interested candidates are kindly asked to send their electronic application, including motivation letter, CV with references, and indication of earliest start date to jobs@wrforum.org with the subject line “Application Internship SRI”.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Sonia Valdivia (+41 71 554 0902).