

Privacy Policy - WRFA Membership

We are committed to protecting the privacy of our members. Please take a moment to read our privacy policy to understand how we collect, use, and safeguard your personal information.

1. Data Retention for Communication

We collect and store member data to facilitate communication and enhance your experience. This includes information provided during the membership registration process. Even after your membership expires or is terminated, we may retain your data to ensure optimised communication regarding relevant events and other important announcements.

2. Data Confidentiality

Your privacy is paramount to us. All data collected during your membership will be kept strictly confidential. We do not share your personal information with third parties and we take every measure to protect your data from unauthorized access or disclosure.

3. Visibility Settings and Member Names

By becoming a member of the World Resources Forum Association, you agree to have your name visible to other members. This is an integral part of fostering a collaborative and engaging community. You have the ability to personalise your visibility settings at any time. Simply access your account settings to adjust your preferences regarding the display of your name and additional details to other members.

By using the World Resources Forum Association membership platform you consent to the terms outlined in this privacy policy. It's essential to review this policy regularly to stay informed about how your data is handled.

If you have any questions or concerns about our privacy practices, please contact our support team at member@wrforum.org.
